

Andrew Scanlan Dickie

Andrew worked with The Village on Main from April 2016 to August 2017 as our Planning Officer through the Co-op program at Dalhousie where he appreciated the tangible work experience, and proved to be a valuable asset.

During his time with us he created the Developer's Handbook, Carshare Policy Review, Street Design Concepts, Transit Advocacy and Consultation, Graphics Work, and Data collection for a potential median installation.

All the work that Andrew did was important, but the interactive Developer's Handbook reigns supreme. It is an incredible tool for those interested in what the district can become. The 139-paged Dartmouth Land-Use Bylaws are available online, but it's not the most user-friendly material. Andrew's creation is much easier as all you have to do is click the property you're interested on the map and the bylaws/rules, along with any other important information will appear.

In addition to all the planning work, Andrew assisted with public consultation during the Tribute Festival and SWITCH Dartmouth. It's no surprise that Andrew won Dalhousie's Planning Co-op Student of the Year award.

Originally from Montreal, Quebec, Andrew has once again relocated and is currently working for the Municipality of Mississippi Mills in Ottawa, after graduating from Dalhousie's Master of Planning program in 2017.

The odd occasion where Andrew does have spare time, you'll likely find him being active playing volleyball, bouldering, biking, or set up with a good book.

You can connect with Andrew via email at andrew.scanlandickie@dal.ca or on LinkedIn. <https://www.linkedin.com/in/scanlana/>

Andrew came to work with us in 2017 and went above and beyond in all that was assigned to him. When visiting our website you'll be sure to come across multiple informative and engaging documents. His hard work led to him winning Dalhousie's Planner Co-op Student of the Year Award.